

THE STATE HOSPITALS

The General Board in Quarterly Session at Central Hospital, Petersburg.

THE NEW IMPROVEMENTS

New Home of Petersburg Elks Soon to Open—Young Lady Missing Elopement Married.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., April 13.—The General Hospital Board held its quarterly session at the Central State Hospital to-day, and transacted much business of interest to the hospitals of Virginia. There being four hospitals in the State, one meeting of the general board is held at each institution once during the year.

There were present: Colonel L. W. Lane, Jr., of Williamsburg, commissioner; Julius Straus, of Richmond; Robert Gilliam, of Petersburg; O. D. Batchelor, of Newport News; S. J. Hamsbrough, of Winchester; Captain J. D. Osborn, of Montgomery county; Haynes L. Morgan, of Smyth county; H. D. Cole, of Williamsburg; J. H. Clowers, of Richmond; and George C. Bland, of King and Queen county. The absentees were Judge James L. Tredway, of Pittsylvania county; Colonel H. S. Turk, of Staunton; and Colonel C. C. Toller, of Roanoke.

IMPROVEMENTS.
Other improvements are to be made at the Central State Hospital. A new farm of 7 acres was recently purchased, making the hospital farm now about 600 acres. The house on the new tract is to be used as the home for a colony of the tuberculous patients and to further relieve the crowded conditions. Tents will be used for the tuberculous patients, and the new cases will be treated in the tents, and they will also be used for the tuberculous cases during the winter.

Industrial shops will soon be built and the dining-room and chapel space enlarged. There are now 1,115 patients in this hospital.
There are 602 patients at the Eastern State Hospital at Williamsburg, and 1,012 at the Western State Hospital, at Staunton. There are three male patients at Williamsburg that have been confined in the hospital for 32, 37 and 22 years, respectively. This institution recently secured an appropriation of $7,000 for improvements. A new electric light system is being installed at the Western State Hospital, and the work of wiring for lights is now well under way. The report of the Southwestern Hospital was not in hand, being delayed in transmission.

After the board had completed their work to-day, they drove to the Crater and to many other historic points around the Cockade City.

ELKS' NEW HOME.
The new home of the Petersburg Lodge, No. 237, of the Order of Elks, will be ready for occupancy by the 10th of May, and the moving of the fraternity headquarters will be celebrated by appropriate ceremonies.
General Stith Bolling is in receipt of a letter from Alexandria, Va., to the effect that a negro man, supposed to be from Petersburg, had been found dead on a boat at that port. On the body of the negro was found a letter written by Pauline Mason, of this city, and this led to his identification.

Miss Effie May Hewitt disappeared from her home, in Petersburg, several days since, and nothing was known of her whereabouts until Monday, when her marriage, in Manchester, to James E. Proctor, was announced. The groom is employed by the Seward Truck and Bag Company.

Mrs. J. T. Mastin, whose husband is connected with the Virginia Conference Orphanage, delivered an address to-night at High Street Methodist Church.
Dr. Frederick Henry Sykes, of Columbia University, to-night delivered in Petersburg the second of a series of lectures on the Modern English Novel.

Hogan-Smith.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HEATHSVILLE, VA., April 13.—Mr. Dumaway Hogan and Miss Bessie Smith were married at the Baptist parsonage here to-night by Rev. Dr. G. W. Beale.

THE QUAKER DEBATERS RETALIATE ON VIRGINIA

The Decision in the Annual Contest Given to the University of Pennsylvania Team—A Hearty Reception.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., April 13.—The second annual intercollegiate debate between the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Virginia, held to-night in the public hall at the University of Virginia, before a large audience, was won by Pennsylvania.

The question was, "Resolved, That the laws of marriage and divorce should be uniform throughout the United States, and to that end that Congress should, by constitutional amendment, be given exclusive jurisdiction thereof." Pennsylvania chose the negative.

George W. Maxey, William R. Langford and John M. Ashton, with C. E. Asmus, as alternate, composed Pennsylvania's team, while the Virginia representatives were Roger B. Wood, of Frederick, Md.; John B. Lightfoot, Jr., of Pennsylvanians during their stay at the University. The visiting debaters then gave the Pennsylvania yell, with three cheers and a "Tiger" for Virginia. The Pennsylvania team, on its first appearance in the South was given a hearty reception. The members were met at the station by a reception committee and the morning were driven to Monticello where the debate was held. The debaters were entertained by Professors W. M. Lile, Albert H. Tuttle and Ormond Stone, of the University faculty. After the debate a banquet was held at the Hotel Tuckahoe, when covers were laid for fifty.

The first debate between Pennsylvania and Virginia was held in Houston Hall, Philadelphia, on April 3d, of last year, when the Virginians successfully defended

Virginia Debaters.

Richmond, Va., and Samuel Russell, of Salt Lake City, Utah, with Leo Biddgood, of Charlottesville, as alternate.
The presiding officer was John Ashby Williams, of Washington, D. C., president of the Jefferson Society.

At 11 o'clock the judges—President Daniel C. Gilman, of the Carnegie Institute; Justice Daniel Thew Wright, of the United States District Court, and Professor Otto W. Tittman, superintendent of the United States Coast Survey, all of Washington, D. C.—awarded the decision to Pennsylvania, and was given the approval of the audience as well. The Quakers presented a convincing array of statistics which overbalanced the generalities dealt in by the Southern, concerning intermarriages, polygamy and migratory divorces.

Ashton was Pennsylvania's strong man, his forcible argument being applauded throughout.
In rebuttal, Langford showed to better advantage. Before the audience dispersed, Mr. Ashton returned thanks for the generous hospitality accorded the ed the negative of the following question: "Resolved, That in the settlement of labor disputes, concerning wages and hours of work, employers are justified in refusing to make arguments with labor unions, of which a majority of their employees are members." Irvin W. Ayres, Winston Parrish, James S. Barron and Roger B. Wood, the alternate, composed the Southern team, and Thomas D. Cope, J. Ambler Williams, Robert T. Moore and Winton H. White, alternate, the Quaker team.

CHESTERFIELD COURT.

Peddling Cases to be Carried to the Supreme Court.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHESTERFIELD, VA., April 13.—The Commonwealth's cases against L. B. Price and Company, of Norfolk, for violating the revenue law in peddling goods with wagons in the suburbs of Manchester, through their agents, Joseph Freeman and others, without license for peddling, have been on trial in the Circuit Court here to-day. Judgment was given by Justice L. W. Chatham a month or so ago on four warrants against the named company (in whose name it is alleged the business correspondence was conducted, and who is now the successor of Price and Company), the Justice finding for the Commonwealth on each warrant and imposing fines on W. P. Crall amounting to $250.

Mr. R. R. Hicks, of Norfolk, represented the defendant, and as it is probable that the case will be taken to the Supreme Court for final adjudication, only one of the warrants appealed to this court was taken up to-day, that a test case might be made of it before the others are heard. Mr. Ben. P. Owen, Jr., acted as stenographer.

The case was submitted to the judge, the jury having been discharged early in the day, and the testimony and argument were concluded about 3 in the afternoon. The court did not render its decision to-day in the case heard, but took it up for further consideration. The suit of A. W. Bessley against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, which on Monday was fixed for trial Friday, the 15th, has been set for hearing the 20th, the court to-day making the change on account of the liquor license cases, to be disposed of on the 14th and 15th, the contested cases having been set for the 15th.

ROSAOLA EPIDEMIC.

Many Persons Sick With the Disease in Madison County.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
TWMAN'S MILL, VA., April 13.—An epidemic of rosolia or German measles is prevailing in this section now, scarcely a family is exempt. Some persons have been quite sick with it, but it is generally not serious.

Mrs. D. T. Tinsley is very ill at her home, near here. She narrowly escaped dying this morning, in failing to secure the services of a physician. Dr. B. W. Twyman had been thrown from his horse Saturday, receiving right painful injuries and was unable to attend her. It was several hours before they could get Dr. Mac Banks from Madison, in which time she suffered greatly.

Mr. Jackson Fuay, of Brightwood, had one of his fine horses badly crippled last week on his return from Baltimore. One of the pair has taken eight ribbons at the various horse shows, and he expected to enter them at the Orange Horse Show this summer.

LOST ONE; GAINED ONE

East Hanover Presbytery Permits One Minister to Resign. Receives Another.

SCARCITY OF CHURCHES

Seven Counties in Territory of Presbytery Without a Presbyterian Church.

The third day's session of East Hanover Presbytery was opened with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. W. McC. White.

Mr. A. S. Anderson, a member of the Presbytery Church at Crews, was taken under care of the Presbytery as a candidate for the gospel ministry, after having satisfactorily passed the usual examinations.

Rev. James E. Cook tendered his resignation as pastor of the Hoge Memorial Church, and asked for a dissolution of the pastoral relation existing between him and the church. Mr. Gervais Adams, the representative of the church, presented the action of the congregation. The church expressed its great regret at giving up Mr. Cook as their pastor, but at his earnest request they consented to his resignation. The Presbytery granted the request, and Mr. Cook was given a letter of dismission to Montgomery Presbytery, as Clifton Forge, the church to which he goes, is in the bounds of that Presbytery.

Rev. Russell Cecil, D. D., Rev. J. P. Smith, D. D., and Mr. John S. Munce were appointed a committee to consult and advise with the Hoge Memorial Church until it secures a new pastor. Candidate Carl S. Matthews, at his own request, was dismissed to West Hanover Presbytery.

The moderator announced to the Presbytery the death of the sister of Rev. Mr. Walshall, a committee, consisting of Drs. Rosebro and Smith, and Mrs. S. G. Howison, was appointed to write a letter to Mr. Walshall expressing the sympathy for him in his affliction. The Presbytery was led in prayer by Dr. Witherspoon, and then out of respect to Mr. Walshall adjourned for the remainder of the morning session.

INTERESTING REPORT.
Rev. R. B. Eggleston presented the report on the Young People's Societies, from which the following facts are gathered: In the 23 churches of the Presbytery there are 63 young people's societies. In these societies there are 1,405 members. They raised for current expenses, $176; for foreign missions, $1,534; home missions, $1,480; for Sunday school missions, $1,640; for General Assembly, $5; for other causes, $1,137; total, $4,357.

The report of the committee on ministerial education reported that under the care of the Presbytery there are nine candidates. The churches contributed for this cause $65.90.

Rev. Calvin Stewart, D. D., presented the report of the committee on Sunday schools, from which these facts are gleaned:
Number of schools, 48; on the roll, officers and teachers, 530; scholars, 3,506; total, 4,036.
Average attendance—Officers and teachers 281; scholars, 2,002; total, 2,283; scholars received into the communion of the church, 130; contributions for current expenses, $1,640; foreign missions, $1,534; home missions, $1,480; for Sunday school missions, $1,640; for General Assembly, $5; for other causes, $1,137; total, $4,357.

The following commissioners were elected to the General Assembly, which is to meet in Mobile, Ala., in May—Principals: Rev. William S. Campbell, Rev. J. S. Foster, Mr. Charles Lorraine and W. M. Gilliam; alternates—Rev. L. E. Scott, Rev. R. B. Eggleston, Mr. F. P. Rennie and Mr. C. T. White. The evening session was devoted to the consideration of the subject of Home Missions in the bounds of the Presbytery.

The report of the committee was presented by Rev. W. McC. White. The report showed that in the cities of Richmond, Petersburg and Fredericksburg, with their suburbs there are 5,022 outside of these cities and suburbs. In the twenty counties there are only 1,377 members. In the last ten years there have been an increase of 49 members in these counties.

MISSIONARIES NAMED.
There are seven counties in the Presbytery in which there is no Presbyterian church, and six counties in each of which there is only one Presbyterian church.

The report showed that the amount contributed by the churches for this cause was $2,557.
The following missionary appointments were made for the coming year, each

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

The Gubernatorial Candidates Discussed at Caroline Court.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., April 13.—An important meeting of the City Council was held last night and steps taken looking to the paving of Main Street with granite spalls and granite sidewalks from Charlotte to Prussia Streets, down Prussia to Princess Anne, to the Richmond and Fredericksburg Railroad. Reports were made for enlarging the city water works and improving the city gas works, and action taken looking to the paving of Main Street with granite spalls and granite sidewalks from Charlotte to Prussia Streets, down Prussia to Princess Anne, to the Richmond and Fredericksburg Railroad.

Reports were made for enlarging the city water works and improving the city gas works, and action taken looking to the paving of Main Street with granite spalls and granite sidewalks from Charlotte to Prussia Streets, down Prussia to Princess Anne, to the Richmond and Fredericksburg Railroad.

The farmers of Caroline have not sold more than one-third of their tobacco crop of last year, and it is estimated that they still have on hand nearly $500,000 worth of this product, which is now bringing good prices in the Richmond market. At Caroline County Court this week, which was largely attended, the coming gubernatorial contest was discussed to a considerable extent. It was developed that Congressman Swanson, lieutenant governor-elect, and Senator Senator Mansel all have some followers in that county. Mr. Ayers, of the Southwest, was not mentioned.

Mr. John C. Willis, who has been ill for the past two weeks, has been taken to Dr. Hodges's private sanitarium in Richmond for treatment.

CHURCHES GET CLAIMS.

Episcopal and Catholic Bishops to Visit Winchester.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, VA., April 13.—Rev. Dr. F. T. McFadden, of Richmond, will deliver a special Ascension Day sermon before Winchester Commandery, No. 12, Knights Templar, in this city, Sunday, May 15th. Dr. McFadden is grand senior warden of the Grand Lodge, Knights Templar, of Virginia.

Bishop Gibson will visit Christ Episcopal Church, this city, Thursday, April 21st, and confirm a class of candidates. Bishop Van de Vyver, of the Catholic Diocese, will visit the Church of the Sacred Heart and confirm a large class May 8th.

The United States Court of Claims has awarded Centenary Reformed Church, of this city, $1,188, for damages done to that edifice during the Civil War, and $600 for rent. The building was used as a Federal barracks and a hospital for Federal troops. The Catholic Church was previously awarded $500 and the Southern Methodist $2,500 for a similar cause.

The volunteer firemen of the Cumberland Valley, comprising the cities and towns from Harrisburg, Pa., along the Potomac and Valley Railroad, to Winchester, Va., and including Hagerstown, Md., and Martinsburg, W. Va., will meet May 15th, 6th and 7th, in the last named city. These firemen organized the Cumberland Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, July 4, 1902, in Winchester. The firemen of Martinsburg will give the firemen $1,000 in prizes.

Escaped Trial on Fluke.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., April 13.—H. B. Palmer, the Berkeley saloon-keeper, who murdered and assaulted John Steele, a Berkeley representative of a Norfolk newspaper, for political or personal reasons, escaped trial to-day on a fluke.

The Commonwealth itself moved that the indictment be quashed, as it was improperly drawn. The prisoner was held in $500 bond for his appearance at the July term of the court, when he will be re-indicted. He permanently disabled Steele's left eye, it is alleged, in the assault made on him last December.

CAPTAIN LURTY HEAVILY FINED

Pursues a Young Negro and Snaps Pistol in His Face.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HARRISONBURG, VA., April 13.—Captain Warren Seymour Lurty in the Police Court to-day was fined $100 for snapping a pistol, which proved not to be loaded, at Charles Myers, a colored drayman. He was also fined $25 for carrying a concealed weapon and put under $500 peace bond for two months. The fine for carrying a concealed weapon was appealed to the Circuit Court. The $100 fine was paid and the peace bond was given. The case grew out of an altercation last Friday morning between Captain Lurty and Myers. After the first trouble, in which the boy was chased about the streets by the captain with an open knife, Lurty went to a hardware store and purchased a thirty-eight calibre revolver, which he told the clerk to load. The clerk made a pretense of complying with the request, but did not do so.

He handed the gun to Lurty and the latter started down the street to look for Myers. He found him, and pointing the revolver at him, demanded an apology from the negro. Myers apologized, and the captain then ordered him to get on a wagon which was standing near by. The boy refused and Lurty snapped the pistol in his face three times. Bystanders called to Myers to knock the captain down. This was done, and as he struck the ground the negro administered a kick. The gun was taken from Lurty and two warrants, one charging him with a felony for attempting to shoot Myers, and the other misdemeanor for carrying a concealed weapon.

Captain Lurty was an artillery officer in the Confederate army and claims relationship to "Stonewall" Jackson.

MARRIAGE KEPT SECRET.

A Ticket to St. Louis Exposition With Expenses Involved.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEXINGTON, VA., April 13.—A marriage of considerable interest, which took place April 7th, in Lexington, has just been made public by the return of the license to the county clerk's office. The contracting parties were Mr. Charles Andrew Glover and Miss Rebecca Pettus Cummings, both of Rockbridge county. The utmost secrecy has surrounded the marriage, from the issuing of the license minister, Rev. Dr. D. A. Penick, at the request of the young couple.

Interest attaches to the marriage from the fact that the day following the issuing of the license the bride-to-be was the successful contestant in a drawing contest, awarding a free ticket and all expenses to the St. Louis Exposition, the gift of an uncle in Idaho. Mr. Gary Wright, who desired to confer this pleasure upon one of his eleven nieces in Rockbridge. The only stipulations were that the contestants should be over sixteen years of age and unmarried. Since Miss Cummings is married, the situation is interesting to know what Mr. Wright will do about the matter.
